

Simple, Efficient, and Modular Syntheses of Polyene Natural Products

Suk Joong Lee, Kaitlyn Gray, James Paek, and Martin Burke

The synthesis of polyenes is challenging due to the sensitivity of the polyene framework. We have developed methods based on palladium cross-coupling that enable the synthesis of this important structural class. This methodology was employed to synthesize a variety of polyene natural products.